
Louise Freeman

From: Natasha_Soundiades@bat.com
Sent: 19 November 2009 08:25 AM
To: Louise Freeman
Subject: Healing Balm Testimonial

Hi Louise,

I would like to share my experience with the "Snappi Healing Balm" with you. My 5 month old baby gets a nappy rash on the odd occasion, a few weeks ago, she had a very acidic poo nappy, which burnt her tender little bum really badly. It was red and swollen and I could see that she was in so much discomfort. After her bath, I applied the Healing Balm to the affected area. The next morning, when she woke up, I changed her nappy, and to my delight, there was not a sign of the rash. Now, I apply the Healing Balm after every bath, and she has not had a single red bum since! Furthermore, I have found that the Healing Balm works absolute WONDERS for any bruising! I have a very active 2 and a half year old who is permanently full of bumps and bruises, applying the Healing Balm, decreases the severity of the bruising instantly and it definitely helps up the healing process. She fell the other day and got a nice big bump on her forehead, I applied the Healing Balm and the next morning, the bump was practically gone and there was no bruising whatsoever!

I love the Healing Balm and I give a tube to every one of my friends at their baby showers. This is definitely a product that every mother should have in their home!

Kind Regards,

Natasha Soundiades.